Jewish Cemetery: Located at 47 °35' 16°28', 42.8 miles S of Wien in Burgenland, Austria. I visited there twice, last time on 1982. The large cemetery was surrounded by a wall. An old lady had the key for the gate. There were lots of weeds everywhere; and most of the stones were in bad condition though I could read some Hebrew and German writing, including one stone with the surname of Lederer. The Jewish museum in Eisenstadt might have more details. Source:
