

LIBLICE: see Bysice and probably used cemetery at BOSYNE

Liblice is a village in Central Bohemian Region at 50° 18' 46" N, 14° 35' 24" E, 9 km southeast of

Mělník

and 28 km northeast of

Prague

. The population is 483 (2006). A

Baroque

chateau

(1699-1706) designed by Giovanni Battista Alliprandi for Count Arnošt Josef Pachta of Rájov (Graf Ernst Josef Pachta Freiherr v. Rayhofen serves since 1952 as a conference and recreational facility of Czech Academy of Sciences and is not accessible to public. [February 2009]