CEMETERY: ulica Polna about 100 m from the Roman Catholic cemetery on an L-shaped lot on an area of 13 500 sq. m.

The cemetery was destroyed during WWII. Stolen gravestones were used in construction. Overgrown and forgotten, in 2008, the cemetery waws cleaned, the fence repaired, and a gate installed by the Foundation for the Preservation of the Jewish Heritage in Poland and financial support of descendants of Sławatycze Jews and by the Jewish Community of Warsaw. Gravestones retrieved from the city were placed on the cemetery. In May 2008, the cemetery was rededicated and a plaque commemorating the Jews of Sławatycze was unveiled.
