The earliest known Jewish community was mid-19th century. 1939 Jewish population (census) was 3516. Effecting the Jewish Community was 1919 and 1920 pogroms. The Jewish cemetery was established in 1890. The last known Hasidic Jewish burial was 1994. No other towns or villages used this unlandmarked cemetery. The isolated suburban and rural (agricultural) hillside has no sign or marker. Reached by turning directly off a public road, access is open to all via a continuous fence with a non-locking gate. 501 to 5000 stones, all in original location with none toppled or broken, date from 1946. Location of any removed stones is unknown. The cemetery has no special sections. Some tombstones have traces of painting on their surfaces, iron decorations or lettering, other metallic elements and/or metal fences around graves. The cemetery contains no known mass graves. The municipality owns the property used for Jewish cemetery only. Adjacent properties are commercial or industrial and agricultural. The cemetery boundaries are smaller now than 1939 because of commercial or industrial development. Frequently, private Jewish or non-Jewish visitors and local residents visit. The cemetery was vandalized during World War II and occasionally in the last 10 years. Cleaning stones, clearing vegetation, fixing wall and gate was care; and now individuals do occasional clearing or cleaning. Within the limits of the cemetery are no structures. Vegetation overgrowth is a seasonal problem preventing access. Moderate threats: uncontrolled access, pollution, vegetation, vandalism and existing nearby development. Slight threat: weather erosion. Other documentation was inaccessible.
